Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent

Application Publication US 2003/0120268 to Bertolero et al. Bertolero et al. disclose a method for ablation of cardiac tissue for treating cardiac arrhythmias including contacting a device with epicardial tissue, using a tissue contacting member on the device to secure the device to the tissue, and ablating the tissue with an ablation member on the device. In some embodiments, the method further includes additional steps such as positioning the device on the epicardial tissue, stabilizing cardiac tissue, cooling cardiac tissue, positioning the device using a positioning device, visualizing epicardial tissue with an imaging device and/or the like (paragraph 0052). The ablation is disclosed as RF (paragraph 0059). The method includes positioning an insufflation device between the epicardial tissue and a layer of pericardial tissue and introducing an insufflation medium into the insufflation device to create a space between the epicardial tissue and the pericardial tissue (paragraph 0016). Clearly the pericardium must be intact for an insufflation procedure.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
